CINCINNATI, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisements of Auction sales. The Chief of Police has issued orders to his force to arrest all Daguerrean artists whom they discover taking pictures on the Sabbath. THE County Commissioners have not, as yet, awarded the contract for furnishing lightning-rods for the new Luustic Asylum at Carthage. JOHN SULLIVAN, for resisting officer Jones, on the corner of Sixth and Culvert streets, was fined $5 and costs in the Police Court yesterday.

MICHAEL ELLIOTT WIll have a hearing before Judge Lowe to-morrow, charged with assaulting Officer Jones of the Thirteenth Ward.

W. G. NEILSON, Esq., was admitted to the bar last Saturday, as a practitioner of law. Mr. Neilson is an old citizen, and well known as an energetic business man.

WHAT THE LEGISLATURE DID .- The Legislature, at its extra session, passed one hundred and ninety-three general and local laws, and some forty-five joint resolutions.

THE case of Fred. Colscot and George Conant will be heard before Judge Lowe to-morrow. These young men are charged with forging the signatures of Chambers, Stephens & Co. WM. SMITH O'BRIEN arrived in this city last Monday night, and has taken rooms at the Burnet House. He declined a public reception, but will receive his friends at his private room SEVEN prisoners, sentenced to the Penitentiary at the last term of the Criminal Court were escorted to Columbus yesterday by Deputy WE would remind our readers of the sale of aluable building lots by Jacob Graff, which will take place to-day at three o'clock. See advertisement. THE United States Courts met yesterday at their rooms, when a Grand Jury was impan-neled and the docket of the Circuit Court called. This was the beginning of the regular Ir will be seen in our "Special Notice" column that Prof. Zachos is about to form classes in Elecution and Dramatic Reading. The edged ability. JOHN COLEMAN went into a coffee-house on Front street, night before last, and after being twice treated by the landlord, amused himself by breaking his tumblers. John was before Judge Lowe yesterday, and fined $2 and costs.

HENRY HASH WAS before Judge Lowe resterday, charged with being drunk. Henry was very much hurt at the idea of such a charge, and asked his Honor to excuse him for this time. No go-two dollars and costs.

THE best endeavors of our Railway Editor will be found on the fourth page of this morning's issue. His style is borrowed from our city cotemporaries, but the news embodied in his report is at least seven minutes in advance of our most enterprising rivals. JOHN DOCKY struck his wife over the head with a club, a few evenings since, for which Judge Lowe held him in bonds of $500 yesterday, to answer the charge of "assault with intent to kill." John will have a hearing today. PICKPOCKETS .- As the amusement season has opened quite extensively, our citizens, and strangers in particular, would do well to look out for pickpockets. Our city is at this time infested with a notorious gang of these lightfingered gentlemen, who are nightly committing depredations. Our young friends of the Pilgrim Mission, German Mission, and Second Mission Sunday-Schools, with a choir of several ladies and gentlemen, under the guidance of Mesers. Schoppelrei and O. N. Bush, had a very agreeable 'rehearsal" last evening at No. 25 West Fourth street. The concert for which this rehearsal was preparatory, will come off at Smith & Nixon's Hall on Thursday evening. Tickets fifty cents each.

ONE of the omnibuses belonging to the Pen dieton line, narrowly escaped being run over by a train which was backing down from the engine-house to the Little Mismi Railroad depot, day before yesterday. The car struck the back part of the vehicle, throwing it from the track, and although it was not injured, one of the lady passengers was frightened into a state of syncope, from which she did not recover for a considerable length of time.

"JOHN SMITH," alias Devine, was before Judge Lowe yesterday, charged with stealing a coat from a boarder at the Southgate House. John stated that he did not steal the coat, but traded for it with a man whose name he could not recollect. John brought witnesses to the stand who testified to his former good character. Judge Lowe, not wishing to place a stain upon the good name of "John Smith," sentenced him to pay a fine of $20 and costs of prosecution.

ASSAULT, ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED HOMI TDE.-This morning, about one o'clock, party of fellows went into the Second-Ward House, on Fifth street, near Race, and got into a dispute in regard to a one-dollar bill, which the barkeeper said was a counterfeit. A man named Joseph M. Linab, who is in the employ of C. B. Camp & Co., stepped up and, as he thought, quieted the disturbance, and sked them to take a drink, after which, while standing in the door, he was struck from behind with a slung-shot by some one who, at the same time, caught at his watch and ran off with it. Linah was knocked down, but not stunned, and he arose and ran after the thief, who, on the corner of Vine street, turned and fired. While passing down toward Third street two or three other shots were firedy but all without effect; still he was followed past the Burnet House, when, at last, the watch came and arrested the person who had been assaulted. The would-be homleide escaped.

Correspondence Daily Press.

Convinue, Tuesday, April 19, 1656. To one who is confined to city life, a trip to the country is at all times refreshing, and purthe sountry is at all times refreshing, and par-ticularly so at this season of the year, when spring is opening in all its leveliness. This morning we took the eight o'cleek train from the Little Miami Depot, that gentlemanty and obliging conductor, Cole, in charge. When fairly under way, we procured what we ob-served to be the popular accompaniments to a traveler, i. e., a copy of the Daily Press and a quarter box of Hay's Maple Wax-candy. We soon found ourselves teeming at a rapid rate up the beautiful valley of the Little Miami. We observed the farmers all along the route have observed the farmers all along the route have much to encourage them. The wheat crop never looked better—the ground is in fine order, and we observed many farmers engaged in plowing, preparatory to putting in their spring crops. Fruit of all kinds gives promise of an abundant crop. This Capital City, since the adjournment of the Legislature, is as dull as a political speech after election. There is some little stir about the State-House, which is still little stir about the State-House, which is still in an unfinished condition, and promises, with its twin sister the artesian well, to be, to the tax-payers, an everlasting bore.

LAW REPORT.

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT. one case.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.—In addition to the names of the Law Students admitted to the bar, heretofore published, the following were admitted yesterday:

E. M. Colver, Monroeville, O.; James McGinnis, jr., Stoubenville, O.; Albert G. Dennis, Cincinnati, O.; E. C. Hill, Cincinnati, O.; Fred'k L. Johnston, Pittburg, Pa.; Wm. G. Nelison, Cincinnati, O.; John L. Bogardus, Elizabethtown, Hi; Thomas F. Applegate, Goshen, O.; Fred'k W. Moore, Cincinnati, O. The Common Pleas Court will adjourn on Saturday.]

SUPERIOR COURT. SLAVES EMANCIPATED.—In Judge Storer's branch of the Court appication was made on behalf of several negroes to have a record made of their emancipation. They were late the property of Wm. B. Rateliffe, of Bayou I.a Fouche, State of Louisians, and were described as follows: Daphne Jones, fifty-three years of age; Emily Jenes, fifteen years (black), and Sasan Warren, a mulatto woman, aged twenty-three years, and her children Elizabeth, eight years; James, six years; Antoinette, four years, and Harrison, two years. It was scarcely possible to distinguish some of the children from the white race. The record was given to each of the parties organicipated.

Judge Spencer called the default list, and submitted docker.

PROBATE COURT Several assignments were brought in and records pursuance of the law passed on the 6th of April.

School Board-Last Night's Proceed

School Board—Last Night's Proceedings.

A communication was read from the State School Commissioner, containing directions to County Auditors in the distribution of books belonging to the State School Libraries, and to Boards of Education, in receiving and tak'ng care of said books. Referred to Committee on Libraries.

Window Shades were ordered to be purchased for the new School-incuse of the Fourth District.

Plans for a new house on the Ninth District School lot were presented, but the Building Committee did not recommend the building of said house. Laid on the table.

The subject of adopting plans for a new school-house on the Ruffner Lot on Third street, was also discussed, but afferward laid on the table.

The Committee on German and English Schools reported adversely to the opening of a German department in the Seventh District School.

A resolution offered by Judge James, proposing to defer the building of new school-houses, or additions to the old ones, until there is sufficient money in the treasury after setting apart a sufficient sum for defraying the current expenses of each year, was taken up, discussed and adopted.

A resolution was also adopted requesting City Council to issue bonds to the amount of Sucoso, for the purpose of enabling the School Board to erect more school-houses, there being an imperative demand for the same.

The Board then adjourned.

Establishment of a Free Church—Rev. Mr. Conway to be the Pastor.

A call which had been issued, requesting all who desired to unite with the First Congregational Church of this city in the establishment of a Free Church, to meet in the lecture-room of the Unitarian Chapel, corner of Fourth and Race streets, last night, drew so many persons to that place that it was necessary to adjourn to the body of the building long before the time had arrived at which it was advertised the meeting would be called to order. One-half of the persons present were ladies,

Alphonso Taft, Esq., was called to the chair upon motion of Wm. Goodman, and Wm. S. Sampson, jr., was appointed Secretary. The President, upon taking his seat, made some remarks in regard to the differences of opinion which were held by the members of the old organization, and hoped that something definite might be done to unite all who were present in the establishment of a Church, which would be free from any trammel whatever, and about whose feet the chains of no creed would

Addresses were then delivered by Mr. William Greene and Judge Hoadley, both of whom regarded Mr. Conway, and justly, too, as a gentleman, a scholar, and a true and devoted seeker after truth, who was willing to sieze upon it, no matter what shape it took, wherever it could be found. He was earnest and sincere in the expression of his belief, and bold, independent and manly in defending it. He was pure-minded and just; would make any sacrifice to that which was true, but would not yield an inch to that which was false. He had opened up new founts of spiritual pleasure for both, and they had determined to support him by every method in their power. After this expression of opinion in regard to their former pastor upon the part of these gentlemen, Mr. Taft-Mr. Goodman occupying the chair-offered the following resolution, which was passed unanimously:

Resolved, That a committee of ten be appointed to invite subscriptions for the support of a Free Church, to be under the pastoral charge of Rev. M. D. Conway, for the ensuing year, to be paid quarterly in advance. The following gentlemen were named as the Committee: John G. Anthony, A. R. Spofford, Wm. L. Aldrich, Timothy Kirby, Jas. S. Boyden, Judge George Hoadley, Wm. S. Sampson, jr., S. L. Wilder, Alphoneo Taft and Wm.

Upon motion, it was then Resolved, That when the meeting adjourn it adjourn to meet at the same place on next Monday week. After some further discussion the meeting adjourned, and those persons who desired it were requested to append their names to the subscription resolution, which had been placed upon the Scoretary's table. In the space of a few moments about fifteen hundred dollars had been subscribed, and parties were still crowding around the table whon we left. From the demonstration last night it would appear that Mr. Conway is very popular, and there seems to be no further doubt in the minds of the many admirers of this intellectual and earnest gentleman, that he will still remain smong us to counterbalance the spirit of illiberality, which, we are sorry to observe, is much too prevalent among those who profess also to be the sincere and ardent followers of the gentle

Washington, April 19.—Judge Crawford took his seat on the bench at twenty minutes past ten this morning, and after an interval of several minutes passed in complete silence, Mr. Sickles came in, accompanied by the jailer and officers. His faithful and inseparable com-panion, Rev. Mr. Haley, Unitarian minister, has been by his side during the whole trial. Mr. Haley is quite indignant at the liberty taken with him by the District Attorney, in describing him as a clerical supe to keep the theological part of the house in order.

It was he who furnished the Scriptural part of the argument, hence the application.

Mr. Ould sought an opportunity of explaining, but Mr. Haley declined. Emanuel B. Hart and Thos. J. Brown, of

New York, are unremitting in their attentions to Mr. Sickles. Dr. Morehead is equally attentive to Mr. Sickles' father. Mr. Bagioli has not been in Court during the past week.

Chevalier Wyckoff evinces active sympathy with the defense. The same faces are seen it the Court-room day after day; the room is al-ways filled to the utmost capacity. The Judge's decision yesterday, admitting the evidence of adultery, took all by surprise. This decision hardly covers the admission of rebutting evidence. The defense will be through with its proof to-morrow, and the trial will probably be over this day week. Two of the counsel will sum up on each side. There will be no charge from the Ludes in the district. from the Judge in this district.

John Thompson, formerly Mr. Sickles' coach-man, was examined: man, was examined:

I left Mr. Sickles' employ Feb. 4th, 1859;
I was acquainted with Mr. Key by seeing him and driving him; Mrs. Sickles went from the house in the carriage alone; she went out mostly from twelve to one, and remained out until four or five; Mr. Key slways joined Mrs. Sickles in the street; can hardly mention a day that they did not meet; sometimes he would come into the carriage, and tell me to drive through the back streets; when he would meet us he would always salute and they seemed quite as much interested in the proceedings as were the male portion of the Mrs. Sickles, and say, "Good morning, Madame;" sometimes he would remain on horseback and sometimes dismount; he never got in the carriage at Mr. Sickles' door, and always, but once, got out before we got back to the house; he always got out at the corner of the avenue and Fifteenth street, at the Club House; I knew him only once to come home with Mrs. Sickles, that was in April or May last year; he went into the house, and when he came out I can not say; I have known Mr. Key to come to the house while Mr. Sickles was absent in New York; he always came at dark; knew him to be there every night almost; sometimes knew him to remain there late at night; at other times I did not know how long he would remain; he and Mrs. Sickles always remained in the study; the door was shut while they were there; there was a sofa in that room, with its foot right at the door; have known him to be there once at night, while Mr. Sickles was absent, till one o'clock in the morning; he was always there when I went to bed, at ten or eleven o'clock, and did not know how long be emained. On these occasions there was no one n the room but Mrs. Sickles and Mr. Key; I think this was in May, 1858.

Q .- Did any thing particular occur to which our attention was called? A .- Yes, sir. Q.—Relate it to the jury.

A.—I was going to bed about one o'clock; I went to the head of the hall stairs and met the seamstress; I stood and talked a little with her, knowing that Mr. Key was in the room; we thought we heard the hall-bell ring, and Key and Mrs. Sickles came to the hall-door and looked out; there was nobody there; they shut the hall-door and locked it again; they went into the study, and I heard them locking the study-door, and the door that leads into the parlor; there are two doors in the study; heard them locking both of these; I stood a little while, and heard them making a noise on the sofa for about two or three minutes.

I mentioned to the girl that they were ting a noise; the girl ran away; she would not hearken to me (Laughter,) as it was not language suitable for her to hear; I heard them again afterward, about two or three minutes; I ther vent to bed; I knew that they were not at no good work; (Laughter,) there was conversation among us all about them; they have visited the Congressional Cemetery two or three times, and two or three times at the burying ground at Georgetown; these visits would be made be ween one and three o'clock; he would meet u somewhere in the street; they would walk an hour or an hour and a half, then they would come back and drive away; some times he would ride in and tie his horse; another time I drove her to the gate; there was only one time that Key rode with Mrs. Sickles in the carriage to the Congressional burying-ground; at another time he rode out on his horse, tied his horse to the reling, helped Mrs. Sickles out of the carriage walked down the burying-ground; they staved an hour. To the District Attorney-Every time Mrs. Sickles rode out, Key met her; there might be some days he did not meet uz, but very few; we drove out nearly every day, and he visited the house daily, but not when Mr. Sickles was present. present.

The witness repeated the evidence about the occasion, when he saw Key at the house at one o'elock at night. Q .- What kind of a sofa was in the study A .- It was a pretty large sofa; the covering is red; it looks pretty good and "dacent."

(Laughter.)
Q.—Did Key visit Mrs. Sickles on occasions of Mr. Sickles' absence at night? of Mr. Sickles' absence at night?

A.—He always visited her at night to my knowledge when Mr. Sickles was away; I can not exactly say whether Mr. Sickles was away or not during any night of this year; think I drove him once to the cars to go to Philadelphia, but can not exactly say whether be was away in the evening or not; it was my impression that he was going to Philadelphia; I did not see him get into the cars; he had a carpet-bag; can not exactly say when Mr. Sickles was away, but I know if he was away any night last year or this year, I would hardly be back to the house before Key would be there; when-ever Mr. Sickles was away Key was there; I recollect the night of Senator Gwyn's party, a fancy ball last was alway two calcakin the fancy ball last year; about two o'clock in the morning Key and Mrs. Sickles left Gwyn's house and got into the carriage together. I drove him and her to the National Hotel; they sat in the carriage a little while, when Key got out and bid her good night, and I was told to drive home; I was told to drive down H or J street; it was always Mrs. Sickles' orders, given in the presence of Key; that was the only time I drove them from a party; on that night Mr. Sickles was at home and in bed; I can not exactly give the date of that party; the orders to drive in the back stream were always given to drive in the back streets were always given by Mre. Sickles; Key was always in the car-riage at the time; I drove past the City Hall one day while Key and Mrs. Sickles were in the carriage; he went in and she waited till he came out, and then I drove to Georgetown; this was last year, perhaps in May; I met him almost every day in the year, and so can not fix any day; I drove her once to Key's house in C street; I left him there as we came from the cemetery, but she did not go in; she left cards there for Mrs. Pendleton.

Geo. B. Wooldridge, re-called. The avony-mous letter to Mr. Sickles was produced and shown to the witness. He identified it as the same letter, with the same envelop, he had seen on Friday, February 25th, two days before Mr. Key was shot. He said—Mr. Sickles showed the letter to me; he read most of it, but did not read all; he handed it to me and I read the rest of it. (The letter referred to was handed to the Jury.) Mr. Sickles said to me, "That villain has just passed the house and has made his signals with my wife." I made inquiry as to the truth of the statements contained in the anonymous letter; on Friday I communicated the facts I had learned to Mr. Sickles; I told him I had got the consent of parties to occupy a room op-posite the house of assignation; I informed Mr. Sickles that a young man told me that the Mr. Sickles that a young man told me that the woman was last seen going into the house on Thursday previous; I afterward discovered that it was Wednesday, instead of Thursday, that she was there; I told this to Mr. Sickles, and described the dresses of the parties; he was convinced that the woman was his wife; I told him the signal of the ribbon hung in the window was known to the people of the vicinity, and they knew by that when Key was in the house and the woman was coming; I told him how the house was rented; when I told him how the house was rented; when I told Mr. Sickles that it was Wednesday, instead of Thursday, that his wife had been there, I re-mained with him—

To Mr. Ould—When he first spoke of the etter he took me to his room and said: George, I have painful news to communicate to you. He then took the letter out of his pocket and read all but the last two lines, and then burst into tears; I told him I hoped the woman was not his wife; he then said that he did not usually take any notice of anonymous letters, but these facts are easily proved, as he had found that there was such a house as that described in the letter, and that he had heard Key had rented it. He asked me to watch and see if the woman that went to meet Key, was his wife; I hired a room in the house opposite to it, and did so; we both went in a carriage to Fifteenth street and he pointed out the house to me; Mr. Butterworth talked to Mr. Sickles and tried to calm him; after his first exclam-ation, Mr. Butterworth said, only we know it. Mr. Sickles replied, the whole town knows it—what shall I do? Mr. Butterworth said, You are a man of honor, and I have no advice to give. I never heard Mr. Butterworth say to Mr. Sickles, There is but one course for you

From Washington. Washington, April 19.—The State Department is in receipt of voluminous dispatches from Commissioner Bowlin concerning Paraguay af-

The Winnebago delegation of Indians yes-terday buried, with impressive ceromonies, their prophet and orator, the most prominent man in the tribe. Judging from certain indications, the news from Nicaragua is not of such a character as will alter the alleged policy of the Adminis-tion concerning that Republic. Much interest is manifested in diplomatic uarters in regard to the subject. It is stated that Gen. Juarez will return to

The amendment to the Cass-Yrissari Treaty

Nicaragua on the 5th of May.

provides that the United States shall engage o use due vigilance and all lawful means to prevent the organization of hostile parties in this country intended for the invasion of Nicaragua. While some prominent gentlemen look upon this as a reflection on our good faith in carryng out the Neutrality Laws, and as unnecessary, others are disposed to regard the ratifica-tion as an evidence of the disposition of Nicaragua to cultivate friendly relations. Slight as is the amendment it is not certain it will be acceptable to the administration, which has not given it due consideration. With regard to the efforts of the British authorities to remove the obstacles to the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, present appearances, if not assurances, are such as not to change the belief that there will be a favorable solution of the question. It has heretofore been confidently stated that the Paraguay fleet had been ordered to Central America, but such does not now seem to be probable, although several of the vessels will be sent to the Gulf, when they shall again be put in commission. It is considered that there

s sufficient force in Central America for all practical purposes. LATER FROM VENEZUELA.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION PHILADELPRIA, April 19 .- The bark Joseph Maxwell, Capt. Davis, from Laguayra, March 26th, and Puerto Cabello, April 2d, arrived at this port this morning. Capt. Davis reports the country throughout in a state of revolution. Commandant Pinto, on the 28th utt., bad routed Gen. Garvarez from Bubbardole and had killed some few men. Garvarez is said to have about 500 men, but is very scarce of arms. Gen. Zamora had plundered San Felipe of about $100,000 worth of property. There had been quite a contest, and the government troops were compelled to retreat. Puerto Ca-bello was all up in arms, and the stores were compelled to be closed half the time. Troops were landing every day from the East.

St. Louis, April 19.—The Overland Cali-fornia Mail, with dates to the 25th ult., has arrived here. The news is unimportant. The markets were generally unchanged. The State finances are in a flourishing condition. Upward of $800,000 in the treasury.
